$1.40 - "Flora Abunda Metallica"

Created by Tony Gazzard Modelled by Claudia Yelavich

This costume and headpiece was constructed from carefully cut soft drink cans and then shaped into giant sparkling flowers to create an impressive and shining ballgown and headpiece. It was the winner of the Recycled Category in 2013 Wearable Arts Competition

$1.50 - "Romeo and Julieta"

Designed by Julie Paris Modelled by Victoria-Rose Paris

This romanticised name reflects the nature of tobacco through time, which was once a sign of elegance, from its discovery in the Elizabethan era which was the inspiration for the ruffled bustle, wide skirt and neckline of this outfit. Made from the cases and boxes that once held cigars, held together by fencing and chicken wire, this outfit was judged to be the Best Overall Design of the 2014 Wearable Arts competition on Norfolk Island

$3.50 - "Bamboo Princess Warrior"

Created by Robyn Butterfield Modelled by Maleah Butterfield

This natural fibre costume was made from the outer layer of locally grown bamboo and then carefully sewn together. This was award runner-up for the Natural fibre at the 2013 Wearable arts competition

Definitive Issue

"Shorelines of Norfolk Island"

Part 2

Another 6 Norfolk Island Shorelines are featured in this issue, each stamp is complemented with a Spirula spirula shell being featured in the bottom right hand corner

.05c Cemetary Beach - there are some beautiful reefs exposed at low tide at this beach, where you can clearly see the colourful rock fish swimming around. This picture shows the reef at mid-tide, Phillip Island in the background and where the pines are is part of the Golf course, surely this Golf course must boast one of the best sceneries in the world.

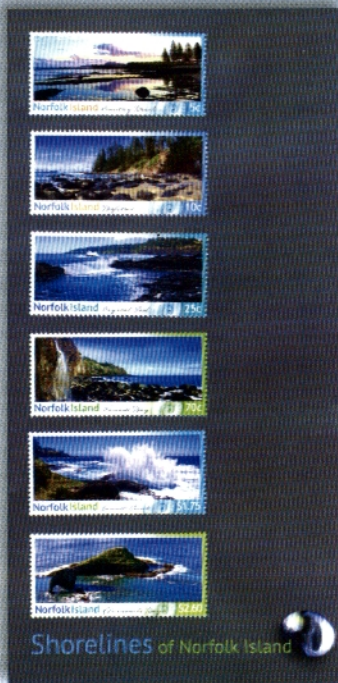

.10c Beefsteak - A quiet little beach with beautiful rock pools, this is Beefsteak.

.25c Crystal Pool - At low tide there are 2 rectangular pools here. This is a picture of water flowing across the wall at high tide. Locals love this place for swimming and fishing, however, it is a place where you must be careful of the sea at all times.

.70c Cascade Bay - This lovely little freshwater fall is coming from Cockpit. Cascade Bay is one of the 2 places where the cargo ships unload and what you see here on this stamp is looking to the left of the jetty.

$1.75 Garnet Point - Is quiet off the track spot - it is simply beautiful here.

$2.60 Duncombe Bay - This rock is called "Elephant Rock" for obvious reasons

Freestyle Motor Cross (FMX) Trans-Tasman Challenge

(Between Australia and New Zealand)

Hosted by the Norfolk Island Junior Rugby League (NIJRL)

The riders featured on these stamps are New Zealanders, Joe McNaughton and Callum Shaw who in 2011 came to Norfolk Island and gave a display of Freestyle Motor Cross Riding.

On 20th December, 2013 the first FMX Trans-Tasman Challenge between Australia and New Zealand was held on Norfolk Island. Competing for Australia, were Team Captain Joe Sheppard, Kain Saul (2nd place), Joel Brown (Winner), Pete Anderson (4th place).

Competing for New Zealand were Team Captain Callum Shaw (5th place) (Callum was still feeling the effects of a crash the week before), Mitch McHardy, Joe McNaughton and Ryan Brown 3rd place).

These very skilled riders were launching from an 80 feet up ramp, performing various tricks including down back flips, whips, no hands flip and so on.

The night finished with all riders in the air with fireworks in the background.

Each of the stamps features the Norfolk Flag, the NIJRL logo and a NI Scene as the background.
